

COMMUNISTS RUN BERLIN, IKE REPORTS

FUNDS NEEDED
FOR HOUSING
AT COLLEGESKELLY AND LITTLE LEGISLATURE TO CONFER OCT. 24

Lansing, Oct. 16 (P)—Governor Kelly said today he would summon the "little legislature" to meet Oct. 24 and would ask them to appropriate $363,000 to five Michigan colleges and universities to defray the costs of providing temporary housing for married veterans attending college.

Kelly, who met the building committee and the heads of the institutions, said the program would care for 2,350 veterans and their families.

The housing to be provided would in almost all cases, be trailer camps. Kelly asserted that "these are all we can get. It's not a matter of being choosy, but of having that or nothing."

He predicted that permanent facilities would be provided before the start of another college year.

$50,000 for Houghton

Under the proposal the following allocations would be made:

Michigan State College, $211,000 to provide facilities for 400 families.

Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, $50,000 for 80 families.

Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo, $25,000 for 50 families.

Central State Teachers College at Mt. Pleasant, $10,000 for 20 families.

University of Michigan, $67,500. The university will receive $42,500 to compensate it for expenses in establishing the facilities in trailers within the city. The rest would be used to provide transportation for the 1,800 veterans living at Willow Village, near Ypsilanti.

Part of the money distributed to Michigan State College would be used to move the trailers to the campus. The rest would be used to construct one concrete block building for every 25 units, to provide bath and laundry facilities.

At Houghton and the university, most of the housing units already are equipped with bathrooms.

Kelly asserted that "after every consideration was given to the problem, it was the composite judgment that there was no solution except this. The need is here now and it must be met at once."

John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, declared that "permanent type of housing takes money, labor, and at least a year of time."

Nippon Workers Shout
For Bread In Parade,
Hit Japan Government

Tokyo, Oct. 16 (P)—In one of the largest political demonstrations seen in Japan since the people were liberated from strict military and government control, more than 500 shouting and banner waving members of the newly formed Nippon working class party massed today before General MacArthur's headquarters seeking American aid in getting more bread from the government.

Leaders of the group of demonstrators passed out handbills urging all senior statesmen in Japan to commit suicide.

Individual members of the parade, which marched from beside the imperial palace to the American headquarters, said they did not like the present Japanese government.

More than 1,500,000 Koreans, who have been working in Japanese war plants, in mines and on farms swarmed into Hakata seeking transportation to their native land.

Policing of southwestern Japan was made harder for American Marines by the influx of Koreans, who are seeking shelter along the docks, in stables and in unused sewer pipes. The Koreans are badly in need of food and clothing.

The extent of Japanese plundering of conquered countries was revealed by the Tokyo newspaper Asahi which said printing presses backed by Japanese force deluged China with new worthless currency which added up to about 54,000,000,000 U. S. dollars in face value.

Notes totaling 4,000,000,000,000 yen were issued by the Central Reserve Bank of China, financial agency backed by the Japanese government, the newspaper said.

This sum, at the official rate of five yen to one, equalled 800,000,000,000 yen, or nearly 20 times the war-time homeland note output of the bank of Japan, which contributed a great deal to inflation in Japan.

WIFE IS SLAIN;
SPOUSE HUNTEDBerrien Man Missing As
Beaten Body Of Woman
Is Found In Brush

Berrien Springs, Mich., Oct. 16 (P)—Berrien County Prosecutor Karl Vick announced today he would seek a murder warrant against Ernest McMurtrie, 51, in connection with the slaying of his wife, Flossie, 49.

McMurtrie, who has not been seen since October 5, has been sought by police since Monday when the badly-beaten body of his wife was found under a brush heap here.

State police said an autopsy showed the woman was killed by head blows with a blunt instrument.

The slain woman's daughter, Mrs. Gladys Bennett of Mishawaka, Ind., first reported October 7 that her mother had been missing for two days.

On October 5, police said Mrs. Bennett visited the McMurtries in her Indiana home and told her husband she was "in jail in Niles." Police quoted her as saying she had not seen her stepfather since then.

Mrs. Bennett came to this vicinity to check the story, police said, and a searching party was organized Monday after she reported her mother missing.

The woman's body was found on the farm of J. M. La Pointe where police said the couple was employed.

State police detectives said McMurtrie had not been seen in this area since October 5.

Gas Racket Trial Involves Former OPA Investigators

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 16 (P)—Two former OPA investigators and five other persons went on trial before a jury in federal court today on charges of illegal trafficking in gasoline ration coupons.

The co-defendants included J. Walter Girard of Bay City and Edward H. Shaw of Flint, both former OPA investigators. Shaw operates a night club in Flint.

The government contends that coupons worth more than a million gallons of gasoline were involved. Judge Frank A. Picard denied a motion asking a separate trial for Girard, who made his demand on grounds that one defendant had a criminal record.

The five other defendants are Mrs. Ruby Tremayne of Flint, an employee of Shaw; Henry Wilson of Flint; John Dulapa of Hamtramck; Julius Piscopa of Detroit; and Nicholas Zappia, who was brought here from the state prison of southern Michigan for the trial.

The indictment named an eighth man, Edward McKammie of Flint, but he has not been apprehended.

Traffic Violations Blamed To Chasing Wife By Husband

Detroit, Oct. 16 (P)—Robert L. Palmer, convicted of five traffic violations within a year, cheerfully paid his fine today and promised traffic court Referee Courtney Fitzsimmons that he would be no more trouble.

"I was chasing my wife," he explained. "We had been having some spats and were not living together, so whenever I saw her in another car I took out after her."

He said his driving would be all right from now on because "my wife and I have kissed and made up."

SOLONS FAVOR
EASED TAXES
FOR VETERANSREPEAL OF EXCESS
PROFITS LEVY
IS URGED

BY WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Washington, Oct. 16 (P)—Pleas that special tax concessions for veterans be written into the tax reduction bill got an apparently sympathetic reception today from the senate finance committee.

They came from spokesmen for the CIO and the National Lawyers Guild at the senate group's second day of hearings on house-approved legislation which would reduce 1946 tax bills by $1,190,000,000.

Clifford McAvoy, representing the CIO, recommended forgiveness of income taxes up to $250 owed by veterans for the years 1941 to the date of their discharge. He also proposed that the $1500 special exemption now granted servicemen be continued for a year after discharge from the service.

Proposals Differ
Henry H. Wolf, appearing for the Lawyers Guild, took a similar stand.

Both McAvoy and Wolf also made parallel requests that the excess profits tax be left unchanged for 1946 and that the house bill be rewritten to reduce individual income taxes by $6,500,000,000, chiefly in lower income brackets.

The house bill would cut the effective rate of the excess profits tax from 55.5 to 60 per cent in 1946 and repeal it entirely for 1947. It would cut individual income tax bills by $2,647,000,000.

Secretary of the Treasury Vincent A. Murphy recommended complete repeal of the excess profits tax, effective Jan. 1, and a reduction of individual income taxes by $2,095,000,000.

In brief, the argument was that the tax sops up money which ought to go into business expansion and deters investment in new businesses.

Marines Get Hero's Welcome In Peiping By Million Chinese

BY SPENCER DAVIS
Peiping, China, Oct. 16 (P)—Marines returned to Peiping and a hero's welcome today. For two hours steel-helmeted Devil Dogs rode in Japanese army trucks through cheering throngs of Chinese.

An estimated million Chinese turned out. They shouted, "Ding how," the Chinese equivalent for "well done." Girls threw flowers in the path of the Marines and boys ran beside the trucks to shake hands with Americans.

Approximately 1,000 Yanks paraded through the city led by tall, grey, Col. Julian N. Frisbie of Springfield, Ill., and Clearwater, Fla.

As the colonel looked over the dense throng of laughing, cheering, clapping people, he remarked, "Guadalcanal was never like this."

"Neither was Market Street," an aide added.

The parade ended in the quiet, tree-lined legation quarters as the cavalcade drew up before the grey-stoned American barracks. A Japanese major and two lieutenants stood at attention as colorful Frisbie strode past without a glance.

"Colonel," an interpreter said, "the Japanese want to know who to turn over to the barracks to."

"Tell them," Frisbie snapped, "to turn it over to my sergeant major and clear out."

Consumers Power Strike Threatens; Agreement Is Off

Lansing, Oct. 16 (P)—With a threatened strike against the Consumers Power Co. only a few hours away, a special mediation commission today reported to Governor Kelly that the parties in the dispute were unable to reach an agreement.

The commission told the governor that company representatives had agreed to a three-point wage recommendation advanced by the commission, but that union representatives asserted they were "not empowered to accept the recommendation and must submit the proposals to local councils."

A week ago the Michigan State Utilities Workers Council, CIO, said the employees would walk out in the month-old dispute Oct. 17.

The special commission asked that no strike be called until a further meeting was held here Friday, but asserted they had received no assurance that the request would be recognized.

Sea Dog Halsey Tells Of Shoestring Era In
Ruthless Pacific War

San Francisco, Oct. 16 (P)—Admiral Halsey declared tonight that America had reached "a rendezvous with destiny" from which it could head toward permanent peace or back to where the nation was four years ago.

Calling Japan a ruthless foe, he emphasized his belief that it must not be admitted to the society of civilized nations until it proved itself worthy.

The old sea dog, commander of the famed Third Fleet, in an address prepared for delivery at a civic home-coming banquet, related the difficulties overcome from the "shoestring era" until the thudding blows against Japan forced the enemy's sudden surrender.

"If anybody had asked me what sort of shoulder patch we felt was appropriate for the South Pacific force in late 1942 and early 1943," the admiral said, "I'd have told him without hesitation: 'A frayed shoelace—fastened with a rusty nail!'"

Halsey said that "beyond question, both the atomic bomb and the entry of Russia into the war weighed heavily in Japan's ultimate decision for a quick surrender."

Halsey recalled that he had acquired a reputation as a "rather outspoken man."

"There are times," he said, "when one has to speak plainly, or even vehemently; and the period through which we have just navigated has been one of them."

"Today, however, we have reached a new 'fix' on our course. Let's call it a rendezvous with destiny—a place from which we can head in either of two directions; to the right toward permanent peace, or to the left along a way that might take us back where we were four years ago."

Halsey remarked it was good to be back in the United States "knowing that in a few days we will not have to pull our belts a little tighter and say as we have so often in the past: 'Well, here we go again!'"

He declared two factors of those lusty war days impressed him above all others.

"Naturally, I am tremendously—and unalterably—proud of the part played in those guelling campaigns by my own service, the Navy, in carrying the ball up from the Solomons to Tokyo. Yet having heard many a discussion of the specific work done

NAVY DISCHARGE
POINTS REDUCEDEnlisted Men Need Only
41 Count To Get Out
After Nov. 1

Washington, Oct. 16 (P)—The Navy tonight announced reductions in point scores for the greater part of its personnel, intended to release one-third of its war-end strength by the first of January.

With further cuts predicted in December and January, the score for enlisted men will be reduced from 44 to 41 points, effective November 1.

On the same date male officers will be cut from 49 to 46 points. Wave officers from 39 to 32 and Wave enlisted personnel from 29 to 26.

No change was made in the formula by which points are computed.

The new schedule steps up the Navy's demobilization plan by some two months.

The Navy announcement also said that a further reduction in point scores for medical doctors probably will be made on January 1. Reduction of doctors' scores from 60 to 53 points was announced recently. The expected further cut will be to 51 points.

In other classes the further predicted cuts are: For male officers other than doctors, to 44 points on December 1 and to 43 points on January 1.

For enlisted male personnel, to 39 points on December 1 and to 38 points on January 1.

For Wave officers, to 30 points on December 1 and 29 points on January 1.

For enlisted Waves, to 24 points on December 1 and 23 points on January 1.

Netherlands Ready To Offer Indonesia A Self-Government

BY WILLIAM F. BONI
Amsterdam, Oct. 16 (P)—The Netherlands minister of overseas territory today declared that the government was ready to offer Indonesians self-government, within the Dutch commonwealth, as a solution to the nationalist uprising in Java.

The minister, Dr. H. A. Logemann, told the Dutch lower house that the government was willing to discuss the proposal with Indonesian leaders "who merit consideration," but would not deal with Dr. Soekarno, president of the "Indonesian republic."

Logemann in a long review blamed some of the troubles in Java on failure of the combined chiefs of staffs to make adequate plans either for the Netherlands, or for other Allied powers, to take over the occupation and administration of the East Indies directly after the Japanese capitulation.

Atomic Bomb's Fuse Is "Trade Secret" Known Only To U. S.

Washington, Oct. 16 (P)—It was disclosed today on Capitol Hill that the United States alone has a "trade secret" for making the atomic bomb's fuse.

The secret hasn't even been given to an ally, senators heard.

This report came from Rear Admiral William R. Purnell before the Senate's joint military-commerce subcommittee studying future science.

Purnell said one American firm, only, possesses the secret of the fuse. And, he added, there are more trade secrets still in hiding.

FOUR PARTIES
NAZI CAPITALELECTION EXPECTED TO REVEAL TREND TO DEMOCRACY

Washington, Oct. 16 (P)—The Communist party of Germany now dominates Berlin's city government, General Eisenhower reported today. He added that informal reports indicate it could not retain that position in "a fair and impartially supervised election."

Eisenhower, in an occupational report made public by the war department, said such an election would "reveal relatively strong support going to the Social Democrats and the Christian-Democratic Union, in that order."

All four political parties functioning in the German capital are allocated sufficient newspaper by the Soviet authorities to print 100,000 newspapers each, Eisenhower said, "except that the Communist paper is permitted to print 200,000."

"All papers," he added, "are subject to Soviet censorship." Of the four political parties, Eisenhower said the Communists and the Social Democrats are "well-organized, active and have a basis of former members on which to build."

No Bloc In U. S. Zone
The two others, the Christian Democrats and the Liberal Democrats, however, he said, are new and less active organizations.

The report added: "The four parties in Berlin joined on the initiative of the Communist party, in a united front 'political bloc' intended to unify their policies on all important matters. This joint political organization continued throughout the month under review (August) and succeeded in formulating surface uniformity on major questions, with some evidence of dissent dissatisfaction, especially on the part of the two conservative parties."

"The device of a political bloc will not be encouraged in the U. S. zone, as it runs counter to traditional American concepts of political activity and vigorous political life in a democratic sense."

Lack Of Personnel Holds Up Veterans' Ann Arbor Clinic

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 16 (P)—Lack of trained personnel is delaying use of a temporary veterans' readjustment center in the Neuropsychiatric Institute of the University hospital here, according to Dr. Raymond W. Waggoner, director of the institute.

Dr. Waggoner said the 20-bed center is "physically ready" and could be operated now except for an "almost impossible personnel problem."

The center was to be used until the hospital completes its $250,000 50-bed clinic which is expected to be ready next spring.

Dr. Waggoner said he had "no idea" when the necessary help would be available.

GRAZIANO GOES TO TOP IN RUSH

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—Tommy (Rocky) Graziano, dynamite-tempered New York middleweight, made the most rapid fistic rise of the year, according to the first postwar quarterly ratings revealed today by President Abe J. Greene of the National Boxing Association.

Comparatively unknown a year ago, Graziano, by virtue of successive knockout victories over Billy Arnold, welterweight champion Freddie (Red) Cochrane, Jimmy Davis, and Harold Green, has been placed into the logical contender class behind champion Tony Zale of Gary, Ind. Other boxers with the same rank are Jake LaMotta of New York, George Abrams of Washington, and Helman Williams of Detroit.

In halting the return to civilian life of all titleholders, Greene said that notice had been served on all champs that after a "proper conditioning period" they will be expected to defend their crowns against proper contenders. Heavyweight champ Joe Louis, lightweight king Gus Lesnevich and Zale were given a full period of respite from title defense because of their recent discharges from military service, but Cochrane, lightweight champ Ike Williams and bantamweight boss Manuel Ortiz were ordered to prepare to take on high-ranking foes.

Louis has already signed to defend his title most likely against chief contender Billy Conn, next June.

Sea Dog Halsey Tells Of Tough Task In Pacific

by this outfit and by that, I come back always to the inescapable conclusion that the Pacific war was a war won by ALL services.

"So here is my first point: During the periods of greatest stress and toughest going, we had utter, complete and total unity of our forces. As one team, Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard—yes, and the men of the Merchant Marine—went ahead and did an apparently impossible job.

"The second is the magnificent work of the men involved. In war, the human equation is one riddle you can't solve with gadgets, gears and levers.

"You can't press a button and get a positive answer. But you have to depend on it—or you're hocked. I can tell you, with pride, that your American boys never let us down.

"That goes, too, for our splendid allies, the Zealanders, the Australians, and the British."

"We have emerged triumphant after a bitter, brutal, bloody struggle," he declared. "The spirit of the recent fight called for total defeat of a ruthless foe, whose character and needs we all had ample occasion to know and to remember."

"I hold steadfastly to the principle that, until it proves itself worthy, Japan cannot and must not be admitted even to the society of civilized, decent nations."

Product Of Flint School Looms As Best U. of M. Guard

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 16 (AP)—Dominic Tomasi, the University of Michigan's freshman left guard whose youthful appearance and slight build (for a Big Ten lineman) disguise the vigor and stamina which characterize his play, is well on his way to becoming the Wolverines' finest guard since Julius Franks, Michigan's first All-American, in 1912.

Tomasi, 17-year-old product of Flint Northern High school where he was an All-State schoolboy sensation last season, upheld the high regard of Michigan Line Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn by playing his best game last Saturday against Army.

Although Michigan succumbed to cadet power and speed by a 28 to 7 score that wasn't nearly as topheavy as it looks, Tomasi's alert defensive play made him easily one of the standout linemen on the field.

On at least two occasions the 180-pound Flint rookie, who's just as hard as the name of his home town, sliced through to spill Army's speedy backs for five-yard losses.

Illini Next Victim
Soft-spoken and unassuming, Tomasi lets such action on the field emphasize Munn's prediction that the 5-foot 10-inch freshman may develop within a year or two to become college football's standard guard in the nation.

The conscientious Tomasi isn't only an outstanding gridman. He stepped into the regular second base job on Michigan's Big Ten title baseball team the very week he enrolled in school last spring.

Since Michigan opened its football campaign the Flint youth has been a starting guard—almost a 60-minute first stringer—in every one of the Wolverines' five games.

A light running and signal drill was today's practice fare for the Michigan squad, which has two weeks to prepare for its next game, a Big Ten clash with Illinois Oct. 27 at Champaign.

Johnny Lintol, letterman guard from Detroit who missed the last two Wolverine contests because of a slow-healing leg injury, expects to be back in the lineup to team with Tomasi in the Illinois game.

Tokyo, Wednesday, Oct. 17 (AP)—A fortune in diamonds, one of dozens of caches of wealth traced to plundering Japanese admirals and generals, has been found buried in a chicken coop atop a mountain 160 miles north of Tokyo. General MacArthur's headquarters said today.

In addition, 11 crates of platinum were found buried outside the coop by American army officers, guided by two Japanese admirals' aides.

It takes more than a telephone to provide service

If all we needed were new telephone instruments, the job of providing service for the 125,000 families now waiting would be much easier and faster. However, nearly two-thirds of those waiting are in areas where present central office equipment cannot handle any more telephones, or where all outside wire and cable are in use.

Large-scale manufacture of civilian telephone equipment is under way, and no effort is being spared to hasten production. But cable and central office equipment are not ready for use when they leave the factory. They must be fitted into the existing telephone system before they can be used to connect new telephones. This is a complicated, time-consuming process.

If you are among those waiting, you may be sure that we'll fill your order in its proper turn as soon as possible. But it may be nearly two years before telephones can be installed generally without delay.

Japanese Army Dissolved

THE physical part of Japanese militarism, the army and navy, no longer exists. Demobilization of the Japanese armed forces in the home islands has been completed.
Within the short space of six weeks, General MacArthur has directed the dissolution of a huge military machine with extreme efficiency. Thus is removed the greatest single threat to the American occupation forces in Japan.
The end of the Japanese army and navy marks the close of an era of Japanese brutality and cruelties almost beyond human conception. Not even in sadistic Germany did atrocities and bestiality exist within a military force to the degree reached by the Japanese troops.
The dissolution of the Japanese military forces was, of course, the first essential to the enforcement of the Potsdam declaration for defeated Japan. The physical part of Japanese militarism is gone, but the objectives of the Allied occupation forces in Japan will not be reached until the last remaining vestige of Japanese militarism is wiped out. This means a destruction of the Japanese thirst for conquest and erasure of the Japanese ideology that Japan is God's chosen land.
Before Japan can once again be given the privilege of taking a place in the world family of nations, under its own rule, there must first be ironclad guarantees that no militaristic force will ever again be able to seize control in that country and launch another program of world aggression.
Democracy as we know it in the United States may be impossible for Japan, as many authorities contend, but the principles of democracy which preserve the right of every subject to speak out against governmental abuses must be established in Japan before there can be any hope of reform.

Would Be Appreciated

ESCANABA'S long-cherished hope of having an indoor swimming pool may be realized, after all. The Escanaba board of education has engaged architects to draw plans for construction of a swimming pool and enlargement of the junior high school gymnasium. The important project will be undertaken if federal, state or other funds are made available to the local schools.
Interested in indoor swimming pools is spreading. Each army training camp in this country had one or more of such facilities, all of which were almost constantly in use. The men, who are returning from military service, will appreciate the opportunity to enjoy indoor swimming pools in their home communities.
Some communities are planning swimming pools as living memorials. Chippewa Falls, Wis., plans a new city hall and memorial swimming pool dedicated to service men and women. The lead taken by the Escanaba board of education to provide this much-needed facility here will be appreciated by young and old. Every city in this northern clime, where outdoor bathing can be enjoyed only a couple months out of the year, should have an indoor pool. It is to be hoped that somehow funds will be obtained for financing the proposed school project.

No Excuse for It

DEER poachers are active in the Upper Peninsula woods, and if their activities are not curbed there will not be very good hunting for the true sportsmen who pay their licenses to hunt legally during the Nov. 15 to 30 season.
The "great hunters" are getting ruthless. One killed a pet doe in the Nahma country, quite likely as the tame animal came up to greet him. Wonderful sport! Headlighters are roaming the forest highways on their nocturnal forays to get their bucks or does before the sportsmen come when the season opens.
Conservation officers are patrolling the woods and getting some of the violators. But they cannot do this big job alone. They need an aroused public opinion that will support them in their efforts to enforce hunting according to the rules of fair play. Here's a made-to-order project for the sportsmen's clubs of the Upper Peninsula.
There's no excuse for the illegal slaughter of deer that goes on just prior to the opening of the season.

Good News for Niagara

ANNOUNCEMENT by the Kimberly-Clark corporation that it will expend about five million dollars in an expansion program at its Quinnessee mill is good news to the people of Niagara, Wis., and the surrounding district.
The expansion program, which will include the construction of a 600-foot long building to house two high-speed Four-drier machines for the manufacture of book paper, will furnish considerable employment in itself until completed in 1947. After the new mill goes into operation, there is the promise of additional jobs for the people of that community.
Niagara is an ideal industrial town and the plans announced by the Kimberly-Clark corporation indicate it will enjoy economic stability for many years. In fact, there is the bright prospect that there always will be paper products manufactured at Niagara for Kimberly-Clark is seeing that it will have a timber supply to sustain its mills permanently.

Kimberly-Clark long ago acquired vast timber holdings in Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Canada. In more recent years, it has been buying up cutover lands in northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula, which will be used for the growing of pulpwood. All these developments indicate the pulp and paper industry is here to stay for a long time.

No Cities Safe

MILITARY men are now convinced that no part of this world will be safe from aerial bombing in the event of another war in the future.
Inland cities, like Chicago and Kansas City, could be reached by airplanes crossing the Pacific and Atlantic oceans in the next war, and development of the atomic bomb brings forth the possibility that it would take only a few ships, loaded with this weapon, to destroy vast centers of population. Amateur scientists talk of the prospect of using radar as a defense against the atomic bomb, but no matter what is developed there is no escaping the fact there would be destruction of life and property on a greater scale than in World War II.
Peace and security cannot come through development of more terrible offensive weapons and defensive weapons of greater effectiveness. Civilization cannot survive if the mad race for the creation of weapons of destruction is to continue. Peace and security can come only through development of the minds of people so they will realize the folly and futility of war and firmly resolve to settle their differences without resort to armed conflict.

HARRY IN BLUNDERLAND
(Toledo Blade)

Once upon a time in a far-away world a little ruler had a big secret. While all the world knew there was such a secret—a magic wand made from a rare reed—only a few of the astute little brownies in his country knew HOW the magic wand was made.
The little ruler had waved the wand and stopped a war—won it hands down. This captured the imagination of the world. It was a combination of Aladdin and the wonderful lamp and Superman come to life.
Now the magic wand could be used for peacetime progress as well as war, but only if all the brownies in this country knew all about the wand so that they could go to work collectively to develop its wonderful powers for the money-making advantage of their own country and the wellbeing of the world. Individual research was prohibitively expensive. From the fact that so many discoveries had been made throughout the history of their world at about the same time by widely separated brownies working independently, the brownies knew it was silly to think the secret could remain a secret very long.
The little ruler knew all this, too, but he seems to have ignored the fact that the secret was too big to be kept and to have thought only of making himself solid with enough of his people to assure himself another term as ruler. So he told them he would keep everything about the magic wand a secret so that nobody would start using it that shouldn't, in ways that were evil.
His decision was cheered to the echo by the thoughtless. It was Great Stuff. But his brownies didn't cheer. They feared this decision might bring about the very disaster it was supposed to prevent. If the foreign brownies knew the little ruler's brownies were working on the peacetime possibilities of the magic wand, they would probably do the same thing. But under the little ruler's decision, since no one enjoyed having a threat hanging over his head, all foreign brownies would probably concentrate on the war aspects of the wand and ignore its peacetime potentialities.
And so it turned out. Other brownies in countries waved their magic wands at one another and discovered the secret, their another all at once and that far-off world vanished. And all because one little ruler had kept a brief secret to win a few votes.

RICKENBACKER'S WARNING
(Detroit Free Press)

Sometimes a visitor's views on a given municipal problem carry more weight than the same views expressed by a home-towner.
Thus it is with Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's address on Detroit aviation before the Economic Club Monday. Rickenbacker's stature in the aviation world, his knowledge of things to come in air development, and his acquaintance with Detroit affairs, further delay in insuring the City's place give special point to his warning against in the air age.
Other discussions will feature Detroit's observance of Aviation Week. But unheeded discussions are so much wasted breath. Ultimately, the return is always ways to a question that passed its fifth birthday last spring: "When does Detroit start?"
Honestly, the best policy is to let all's well that ends well enough alone.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The real test for General MacArthur in Japan has not yet come. The new government of Baron Kijuro Shidehara represents a slight improvement over the regime that preceded it. But those who know Japan say it is part of the militarist-monopolist past.

Shidehara himself was never a sword-rattler. According to those who have followed his career, however, he favored the penetration of China and Manchuria as an essential step in the creation of the Japanese empire.
He has been identified with one of the three or four families that controlled the economic life of Japan. Shidehara differed with the Tojos and the Yamashitas not on objectives, but on methods.

—ALREADY IN DIFFICULTY—

Already his government is in difficulty. Reports from Japan tell of a strike in Tokyo high schools that is likely to spread throughout the country. It is directed against continuation of militarist education in the schools.

That is a hopeful sign. It is a sign that the years of repression and torture by the "thought police" have not entirely wiped out the democratic impulse.

This impulse, long dammed up, may precipitate violent upheaval in coming months. That will provide the test of American occupation.

Some of MacArthur's critics seem to base their complaints on his failure to impose democracy on the Japanese. That, of course, is absurd, besides being impossible.

If Japan achieves a democratic form of government, and not merely a false front democracy intended to fool the outside world, it can only come from the Japanese people. The tragedy would be if American occupying forces moved in to interfere with that process, with the intention of "preserving order" and "preventing chaos."

The temptation will be great. It is far easier to govern a people who seem, on the surface at least, to be thoroughly docile and willing to obey orders. Military men have an inherent dislike of "chaos," which is a word not infrequently used to describe any and all evidences of human behavior outside the military pattern.

—LOOHPHOLE IS SEEN—

The directive under which MacArthur is governing Japan contains a clause that says the American forces shall not interfere with the political development of the Japanese people even though this should take the form of revolt. The clause provides, however, that this does not apply if American forces are endangered or if the objectives of the occupation are threatened. The last is a loophole which allows broad interpretation on the part of the commander. Involved in our occupation of Japan is much more than the fate of the Japanese. In many respects, it will be a test of our position in Asia in the years to come. That is why every step is being followed so closely.

The experts who write about Japan, and in recent weeks we have had a half dozen excellent books, stress this point. One of the best of these books is "Solution in Asia," by Prof. Owen Lattimore of Johns Hopkins University.

Lattimore's warning is unmistakable: If we identify ourselves with the imperialist past, then our role in the Far East will be minor and brief. We shall not achieve the position of leadership which is part of General MacArthur's vision of America's future.

Many months before they conceded defeat, the Japanese started a propaganda line that, to the informed, showed they were preparing for capitulation. The theme of it was that the war was only one battle in a hundred years of conflict; defeat could only mean a temporary setback. The peoples of Malaya and the Netherlands Indies were told that the Japs would come back, not as conquerors the next time, but as allies and leaders in a move to drive out the white imperialists.

This kind of propaganda, as the Japs well knew, has the effect of a delayed action bomb. It will take effect after the cruelties of the Jap oppressors have been forgotten. We, by our policy, must neutralize this delayed action propaganda.

pal overseas harbor of Sydney.

From Van Nuys, California: Your colleague, Dr. Etaoin Shrdlu, thinks he is some shakes as an etymologist. He should take lessons from me, America's greatest word expert. I can give him a familiar, three-letter English word that contains no sign of a vowel, and it isn't an abbreviation either. Give up? It's the word "nth," used daily by thousands. Yours disrespectfully, Prof. Qwert Yuioip.

Answer: The good doctor growled: "Nonsense! rubbish! hogwash!" until I showed him your "nth" on page 1671 of Webster's New International. He was so chagrined that he barely missed having a stroke. Now he seeks revenge. So, beware, Professor.

From M. L., Nashville: I have always pronounced the word "bum" as "bum." A Northern friend laughed heartily at me. She calls it "bum," to rhyme with Tom. What's the god word?
Answer: The pronunciation "bum" has been obsolete since World War I, although some American dictionaries still list it as an alternative.

Nowadays, in America, "bum" suggests (1) "of no account; good for nothing"; (2) "a worthless fellow; a hobo."

The dictionaries notwithstanding, I should scrupulously avoid the "bum" pronunciation (no pun intended). Better use the customary American pronunciation and rhyme "bum" with Tom. To the average American, "bums bursting in air" would have a quite disturbing connotation.

As General Marshall Says, It Would Be Silly

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

STRAW IN THE WIND—The war is over for millions of our young men who are returned or are returning home. Before they entered military service they were civilians. When they are discharged from military service they do not become civilians again—they become veterans.

A veteran has the same responsibilities but more privileges than a civilian. In many quarters there is a growing apprehension that too little thought for their responsibilities as citizens, but with a keen and demanding interest in their future as veterans.

By virtue of his wartime training and experience the veteran should be among the first to recognize that the future of our country, try needs straight-thinking on the part of every citizen. The veterans and the veterans organizations have a great responsibility in this straight-thinking process, because they can and will wield a powerful influence in the field of public opinion.

TREND TO ISOLATION—First Lt. William B. Stegath of Escanaba, who served as a member of a heavy bombardment group in the European theater with the U. S. Army Air Force, has something to say on the subject of veterans as citizens. He writes:

"I have particularly noticed the thoughts you've presented about returned, and separated servicemen. It's a subject close to my heart, since my work for the past year has involved direct contact with returnees being processed and redistributed here at the Miami Beach Redistribution Station for the AAF. Both lectures and personal interviews have given me much food for thought about what goes on in Servicemen's minds—and believe me, what goes on in some of them, aside from the everlasting subject of game and gals, adds fuel to an already roaring fire."

"Perhaps with a new paragraph I can drive home a point or two for you to mull over if you care to. My lectures here dealt with war news analysis—a task sometimes very trying since most returnees didn't give a damn about the war any more. With reason, too. My interviews concerned those interested in educational benefits afforded them under the G. I. Bill of Rights and postwar occupational opportunities for employment. Of the latter, I've spent only a little time on since the Educational Officer handled the predominant number of men. But I handled enough to see a trend of thought which is directly linked with the lecture business—in a word, a trend toward ISOLATIONIST thinking."

"That word is my nemesis, and whether or not you agree with me about it, I still would like to present a couple of thoughts."

DEBUNKING ERA—"Grabbing myself a parachute and an airplane so I can fly high enough to look down on the pattern of thinking and progress in these first postwar years, and getting a clear view of the picture so hopelessly cluttered on the ground level, I see the beginning of another debunking era similar to that which followed World War I—only this, as has everything else in the last few years, will be the biggest of all."

"From the interviews I learned that the G. I. is concerned with a job most of all and with its security."

10 Years Ago—1935

The selection of a Delta county girl to go to Hancock and compete for the Upper Peninsula Potato Show queen title will be made at Escanaba Junior high school today. Entrants from the townships in the county are: Stella Farley, Garden; Goldie LeBresh, Perkins; Eleanor Christensen, Stonington; Ethel Sundin, Nahma; Geneva Smith, Flat Rock; June Anderson, Bark River; Oris Leivdahl, Fayette; Dorothea Molloy, Lathrop; Pauline Charles, Cornell; Katherine Winling, Pine Ridge; Dagney Larson, Ensign.

20 Years Ago—1925

Only four Escanaba homes are now under quarantine for smallpox and patients in these homes are reported to be improving rapidly, according to Dr. H. J. Defnet, city health commissioner. There have been a total of ten cases in the city in the past three months, four of which were fatal. Escanaba Fire Chief Arvid Johnson says that the department has completed the annual investigation of fire conditions in business and industrial establishments. Gladstone—Miss Helen LaFayette, Gladstone high school senior, has been selected editor-in-chief of the school year book.

They want to hibernate into a cocoon of soft silk and sunny days. They see only to the end of their noses—their job on international security is at an end and they are going to let somebody else carry on.

"But the pain lies in the fact that they are the ones who are going to influence thought because they are the biggest group in the nation that has anything in common in recent years and with the latent power to get up and do something. Their feelings are understandable since for all the years they spent in the service they were living in the past—forced to by the general trend of thinking that put the war on a temporary basis."

THEY MUST THINK—"From my lectures to some odd 40,000 men I absorbed a feeling that most servicemen are concerned about our international situation only when they see it directly concerning them. But when it is presented on the State Department level they get that old feeling which is fostered in the Army that somebody else will take care of it for them—that they used their muscle and let somebody else use their brain—that they are so sick and tired of foreign customs and troubles inherent in defeated nations, that they say to hell with it. This is the attitude that breeds isolationism."

"They can't see past the fence in their own backyard. But when you explain to them that their backyard today has become round and meets somewhere in the middle, and that air transport has changed the entire concepts of one guy owning this and the other that they begin to see the light, dim as it may appear. But they let that light go out unless they are charged constantly with new ideas and approaches to fit the new conceptions. You see some of it in the American press occasionally but it is often buried."

CAN BEAT IT—"Frankly, it depresses me considerably to hear somebody say 'the damn English' or 'those lousy Russians,' or 'to hell with the Germans, let them starve'—it denotes an incapacity to recognize the ingredients of the war."

"The only blame can really lie on our educational medium which for a great percentage of Americans consists of the press, radio and movies—a combination that can beat it if they so desire."

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. If a man enlisted in the Navy at San Diego and later married and established residence in another State, would he be transported by the Government to San Francisco or to his present home when discharged?
A. He may be discharged from any separation center and then sent to the legal home address.

Q. Can a serviceman bring in more than one firearm as a war trophy?
A. No man may bring in more than one firearm and it must be of a type whose importation is not banned by existing instructions.

Q. Does a soldier on "temporary duty" pay his own fare on furlough?
A. No. Soldiers back from overseas and destined for more Army duty have 45 days furlough which is called "temporary duty."

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. Is Dresden, Germany in the American-occupied territory?
A. No, it is in the Russian sector.

Q. Is it easier to swim in deep water than in shallow water? Is it easier to swim in salt water than fresh water?
A. It is no easier to swim in deep water than in shallow water; the volume and density of water displaced by the body is the same in either case, and the buoyancy is the same. Psychologically, it probably is easier to swim in shallow water because we know that in a contingency we can cease swimming and stand on the bottom, while in deep water we know we must keep afloat. It is easier to swim in salt water than in fresh water because the former is made heavier by the salt and consequently has greater buoyancy.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Q. May corn on the cob be taken up with the fingers, and held at each end?
A. Yes. The most satisfactory method, of course, is to use the corn holders that can be stuck in the ends of the ears.

Q. What is served at a wedding breakfast?
A. The name breakfast really is misleading, for the menu and formality of the meal is that of a luncheon. A menu consisting of consommé or bouillon, salad, chicken, ice, bonbons and cakes, is sufficient.

Q. My neighbor has invited me to "brunch" but I don't know what that term means?
A. Brunch is a coined word denoting breakfast and lunch combined. It usually is served before 12 o'clock noon. The menu may be either that for a regular breakfast or luncheon, or a combination of both. Invitations are very informal.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—The backstage dispute raging over the future of the atomic bomb is one of the hottest and most important ever to hit Washington. Many of President Truman's advisers are split over it, while most of the scientists who worked on the bomb are boiling over the May-Johnson bill which the army is attempting to rush through congress.

While they aren't advertising the fact, neither Congressman May of Kentucky nor Senator Ed Johnson of Colorado had a chance to study the bill they are sponsoring before they introduced it. However, Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, the army officer in charge of the atomic bomb, is adamant that the bill be passed immediately. Some hint he is afraid of discussion.

Meanwhile, atomic scientists say that Groves was the hardest man they had to convince regarding the importance of the atom when the idea was in the initial stages of discussion. If it had not been for the determination of the late President Roosevelt, scientists say that the army would have ditched the project.

Atomic scientists also relate this inside story of what happened immediately after the first atom bomb was dropped on Japan. They say that General Groves' biggest boner was when he released a study of atomic energy by Professor Henry D. Smythe of Princeton.

After publication of this report, scientists told Groves that he had cleared enough information to put any nation well on the road to the atomic bomb secret.

Groves called in his adjutant; tried to get the report recalled. The adjutant only smiled. "Did you ever try to pull an egg back into a chicken?" he asked.

—SCIENTISTS UNION—

Meanwhile the scientists have organized into virtual "trade unions," chiefly with the aim that their secret be used for the benefit of mankind. The organizations they have formed so far are:

- 1—The Association of Atom Scientists in New Mexico;
- 2—The University of Chicago Scientists;
- 3—The Manhattan District Scientists;
- 4—The Oak Ridge Scientists.

They have also issued memoranda to the general effect that almost any nation possessing sufficient material (uranium, plutonium graphite, and heavy water), can produce the bomb on the basis of information which the war department already has disclosed.

"It is unrealistic," say the Oak Ridge, Tenn., scientists, "that nations will renounce the use of the atomic bomb in war. The only major weapon which has been renounced is poison gas, doubtless due to its comparative ineffectiveness."

"We believe there is only one way open to us. Every attempt must be made immediately to arrange for the control of this weapon by a world authority. This means an effective international control of the production of the vital materials, and of their use by all countries. Only the world authority may manufacture atomic weapons, and by the fact that they alone are in possession of these weapons, enforce international law and peace."

—SENATE ABSENTEEISM—

Senators are getting sensitive jibes at Senate absenteeism and excessive globe-trotting have hit home. The new seating chart of the senate, distributed to help gallery visitors spot where senators are seated, now contains this special explanation: "Senators not present in the senate chamber may be found at committee meetings, in their offices transacting legislative business, or at the various executive departments on official business."

—SNAPPY TRUMAN—

It's always difficult to advise a President of the United States, but friends of Harry S. Truman are hoping he will get away from his habit of making snap decisions. This includes even some cabinet members who benefit from his quick decisions.

Newspapermen who attend White House press conferences, long have commented privately on Truman's tendency to shoot out an answer. He comes out with statements which neither Roosevelt, Coolidge, nor Hoover would have made without careful consideration.

Cabinet members find the same is true in private conferences. They are delighted to get such quick decisions, but sometimes wonder whether it is a good idea to omit consultation with other interested departments. The snarled-up Pacific island bases, which Truman gave to the navy without consulting the army, state, or interior departments are cases in point.

The quick decision regarding the atomic-bomb bill is another. Insiders say Truman never saw the bill which the army sent to congress.

NOTE—Most memorable world-shaking result of White House snap statements was when Warren Harding, replying to a press question, said that under the Pacific security pact Japan would not be able to build bases on her own main islands. Charles Evans Hughes, then secretary of state, had to deny this and sign a special protocol to unsmile the Harding error. After that, and up until the Roosevelt regime, questions were handed to the President in writing.

When nylon hose are available, women will have to take their store-by-store chance of getting them, says the WPB. Another war so soon?

Congress has chosen the fourth Thursday in November for Thanksgiving, but some states may stick to tradition and name the fifth. There should be plenty of thanks this year for both days.

The October quota of new tires will not be large enough to meet the heavy demand, says the OPA. As old tires blow up, so will the folks who can't get the new ones.

NIAGARA PAPER MILL EXPANDS

Kimberly-Clark Planning
To Spend $5,000,000
In Improvements

Kimberly-Clark Corporation yesterday announced a $5,000,000 expansion program at its Niagara, Wis. mill. This will substantially increase the corporation's book paper production, according to Cola G. Parker, president. Two high-speed machines, for the manufacture of machine-coated book paper, will be installed in a 600-foot-long building to be erected adjacent to the present plant. When combined with other improvements in the mill, this unit will be capable of consuming all of the pulp processed there, he said.

Mr. Parker said that as the corporation's financial position permits, new equipment will be added to each of its Wisconsin mills, providing maximum earning capacity for employees and increasing annual paper production to meet the needs of industry and publishers.

Escanaban Swaps Gum For Jap Baby In Tokyo

The war revealed how cheaply the Japanese regard human life but an Escanaba soldier never expected to swap a package of gum for a Japanese baby when he toured Tokyo recently. At that, he felt that he was getting cheated in the deal and chased the woman down the street to make her take her child.

The soldier is Clarence Weber, water tender, second class, who serves aboard the U.S.S. Franks, a destroyer in Tokyo Bay. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weber, 1314 Second avenue south.

Weber's account of that hilarious episode in a letter to his parents follows:

"We decided to go to Tokyo (from Yokohama) and so we took a train which was very crowded. We got to Tokyo and went all through the city by subway, elevated train and trolley car. Down in the main part of Tokyo there were quite a few buildings still standing. There were no shops where you could buy anything but I did make quite a sale for a pack of gum.

"I was walking down the street and I saw a Japanese woman standing by a building so I offered her a package of gum. She started unstrapping her baby from her back. I didn't think much of it just then. She handed the baby to me and I turned around to show it to the rest of the guys. When I looked back she was gone and here I was with a baby. What a trade! Well, we found her but she didn't want it back so I shoved the baby in her arms and took off as fast as I could go. Never again will I offer a woman a package of gum."

The Owen sub-machine gun was invented by a 27-year-old Australian private.

Total amount of park land under conservation department supervision on June 30, 1944, was nearly 43,000 acres including land in administered parks and recreation areas and in unadministered park sites.

Local Students Are Enrolled At Northwestern U.

More than 13,500 students, including 232 from Michigan, have enrolled this fall at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

The enrollment represented a 13 per cent increase over last fall's total of 11,912. Included were approximately 1,000 returned veterans, compared with about 500 last spring and 200 last fall.

Full-time enrollment increased from 5,120 to 5,761, a gain of 12.5 per cent, while part-time evening enrollment increased more than 14 per cent from 6,792 to 7,742.

The greatest increase was 91 per cent in the Technological Institute followed by 67 per cent in the School of Law. Not included in the total were about 700 uniformed students in the Navy V-12 and R. O. T. C. programs.

University officials said that a greater increase was prevented by a shortage of dormitories.

Students registered from every state in the Union and many parts of the world, including India, Turkey, China, Mexico, Canada, Iceland, Norway, France, England, Czechoslovakia, and nine South American countries. Also represented were the U. S. territories of Alaska, Hawaii, and the Philippines.

Siri Andrews
Assumes Post
With Holt Co.

The post of juvenile editor of Henry Holt & Co., vacant for more than four years, has finally been filled with the appointment of Siri Andrews, formerly of Escanaba, according to an article in the October issue of the Writers' Journal. She has already assumed her duties at the Holt offices at 257 Fourth avenue, New York City, and is now busily engaged in reading material.

Writers' Journal adds:

Manuscripts which Miss Andrews is most anxious to have submitted is good non-fiction for both boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 14. Other age groups are not being neglected, but Miss Andrews feels that straightforward information on all subjects written for the 10-to-14 group is scarce. She hopes to find realistic fiction for children of all ages, again especially for the 10-to-14 group.

Miss Andrews is interested in book material about the present time with either American or foreign settings; stories about children living in cities; stories which will help to counteract racial intolerance and prejudice, and stories which recognize social and economic problems.

But first of all, says Siri An-draws, they must be good stories. She hopes to find some good humorous books, but realistic rather than fantastic.

Miss Andrews, who resigned from the faculty of the School of Librarianship of the University of Washington to take the post with Holt, is well known in the children's field. She had been on the university's faculty since 1928, teaching courses in children's literature, story-telling and children's library administration, has written articles on children's reading for many periodicals, and has done much lecturing and book reviewing.

FARM EXPERT TO SPEAK HERE

Noted Agriculturalist To Give Banquet Address
Tonight

Agriculture's prospects in a postwar world will be the theme for discussion by Franklin Parsons, agricultural expert associated with the Federal Reserve Bank in Minneapolis, in his address to be delivered at the banquet to be held this evening in conjunction with the second annual Schoolcraft County Potato Show.

Mr. Parsons has perhaps as close an insight in agricultural matters affecting the north middle west as any agriculturally minded man in the country and his talk should be of particular interest to both farmers and residents of the city and Schoolcraft county.

The dinner, which will start at 7:30, will be served by the ladies of the First Methodist church, and the public in general, both men and women, are cordially invited to be present.

Among other matters to come up at the banquet, will be the presentation of a trophy to the winner in the 4-H club potato growers contest. Names of the winners in the farmers' judging contest will also be announced at that time.

The Potato Show will be held, as heretofore, in the old gymnasium. The place will be open for the convenience of those who wish to enter any of the contests at 8 o'clock in the morning and will remain open the rest of the day. The exhibits will be put in place about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Judging will begin about 2 o'clock. It is suggested that visitors call after 3 o'clock when the awards will have been made and the ribbons placed.

The grading contest is open to all growers in Schoolcraft county. Admission to the show is free.

BOYS TRIED TO BURN SCHOOL

Flat Rock School Fire
Was Work Of Three
Minor Youths

"I did not like to go to that school and neither did (name deleted), so we decided to burn it down," a 15-year-old youth told Michigan state police investigating the recent fire in the Nadon school at Flat Rock.

As the result of the investigation, it was determined that the school blaze was a case of arson, which was suspected, and three boys, one 14, the other two 15 years of age have been brought before Juvenile Judge William Miller.

The boys told officers they took kerosene and poured it along the walls near where they joined the rafters before starting it afire. This was about 4:15 on the afternoon of October 11. Prompt response and action on the part of the Escanaba fire department saved the school.

Two of the boys also admitted that they had tried to burn the school down several weeks ago but the attempt fizzled. The second time they changed the style of attempt and thought sure it would do the trick.

All three of the boys gave in-dignant statements to the officers which tally well in general particulars.

Two of the boys were students of the school while the third is a former student.

Rate Students On Citizenship In Public Schools This Year

Report cards for the first term of the first semester in the Gladstone public schools will be out on Thursday and the cards will give parents a better picture of the work being done by their children for citizenship is rated in addition to scholarship.

On the card for grade pupils the following note to parents appears: "You are interested in the quality of work your child is doing in school."

"We believe that certain traits of personality, of health and work habits are as important as scholastic achievement in determining your child's chance for success in life. Even good training in books will be ineffective unless your child has good work habits, gets along well with others and shows respect for law and order. This report attempts to rate citizenship as well as scholarship."

In the citizenship record under study habits the student is rated on whether he uses his time to good advantage, finishes work started, follows directions, finds new tasks, does work neatly, works without constant help and is careful of school property.

Under health habits the child is marked on personal appearance, whether he follows good health habits and on posture.

Social habits scoring is based on whether the student respects the rights of others, is courteous in language and behavior, shows good sportsmanship in work and play, is attentive when others are talking, cooperation with his group and self control.

On the card also is a place for comments or suggestions of the parents, which will make for closer cooperation between the teachers and the parents.

The report which is issued to high school students explains to the parents that the scholarship mark represents accomplishment in class work while the citizenship mark represents an estimate of social maturity and general attitude toward school obligations.

In order to gain a place on the honor roll this year it is necessary that the citizenship mark of the student be satisfactory in addition to the proper scholastic marks.

Slim Pickings Indicated For Baseball Player Draft In Chicago

MINOR LEAGUES HAVE NO STARS

About 400 Expected To Be On Call For Jobs; Quality Lacking

BY JIMMY JORDAN
Chicago, Oct. 16 (AP)—All the major league baseball teams probably will be represented, but from this distance it looks like slim pickings when they hold their annual player-draft meeting here Nov. 1.

Not that there'll be any scarcity of draftable players. About 400 names are expected to be on the eligibility list now being prepared by Leslie O'Connor, Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler's assistant.

But quality is something else. There wasn't much left in baseball's minor leagues worth the $7,500 price tag for a class AA draftee when the 1945 season ended. Just about every minor leaguer that showed any promise the past season was snatched by a parent team, or for cash, and found himself on a major league diamond.

Furthermore, just about every big league team still is worried about what to do with players now on their rosters when their chancellors in service return. All of them have players in service who with a little conditioning, could step right into their former jobs and probably help their teams more than the men who played the positions the past season.

Servicemen Coming Back

That's what the big-leaguers face in the draft—a paucity of material and the probability they'll be overburdened with returning servicemen next spring. If the players now in uniform return as rapidly as seems probable, reserve lists of the clubs will be heavy enough to warrant disposal of some of them, but few trades or sales during the winter and early spring seem possible until the situation definitely is clarified.

At the end of this season, every team had defensive and offensive holes to be filled. It seems certain they'll be slow to purchase new players, or to risk the draft price for a second-rater, at this time.

Last year 21 players were taken in the annual draft. This year's draft figure is doubtful. It's also doubtful that more than three or four of the bottom teams of the two leagues will bid for a player—the last-place teams get first pick, seventh next, and so on to the top.

The players aren't in the minors. They're in the armed services.

Some of history's earliest recorded boats—those belonging to the Phoenicians and Egyptians—were decorated with male animals, despite the fact that ships are generally known as "she."

EAGLES STAR TOPS RUNNERS

Steve Van Buren Leads Pro League In Yardage Gained

Chicago, Oct. 17 (Special)—Steve Van Buren, rapidly establishing himself as the greatest ball carrier since George McAfee, ran last Sunday while his Philadelphia Eagle colleague was losing to Detroit.

The former L. S. U. star went 93 yards through Detroit's defenses in ten attempts to jump from ninth place with a total of 163 yards gained in two games. Coupled with his three attempts in the Eagles' opener against the Chicago Cardinals a week ago, he now has carried the ball from scrimmage 13 times, an average of 12.5 yards per attempt.

While Van Buren was highlighting his performance with a 69 yard touchdown jaunt against Detroit, Sammy Baugh, the Rotan rancher, was turning in another of his many matchless performances against Pittsburgh to become No. 1 among National league passers. Baugh completed 18 out of 21 passes to lead Washington to a 14 to 0 victory. It was one of the veteran Baugh's best days as a major leaguer, and gave him a percentage of .604 for two games.

Although Cleveland prevented him from scoring any touchdowns, Don Hutson was successful enough against the rampaging Rams to take over his old place at the head of the pass receiving table. Seven passes moved him from second to first with a total of three games of 16, good for 323 yards and four touchdowns. He also retained his lead over scorers, adding two extra points to his total to give him 37 points against 27 for Ted Fritsch, Green Bay full back, who remained in second place.

Ken Strong, New York's veteran place kicking specialist, is off to a flying start toward a record in his specialty with four field goals in two games. Strong has missed only one attempt thus far this season.

Sports Poll Keeps Army in Top Spot

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Army, for the second straight week, dominated the Associated Press poll to determine the best college football team in the country by capturing 90 of the 105 votes to retain first place.

The only other eleven to receive top nominations were Navy with 14 votes and Ohio State with one.

The Cadets, with 1,035 points, were followed by Navy (803); Notre Dame (768); Ohio State (655); and Minnesota (581), exactly the same as last week. Ten points were given for each first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc. The 15 critics who did not place the West Pointers first voted the Cadets second.

The only two newcomers to this week's Big Ten are Pennsylvania and Purdue. The Quakers, by virtue of their 49-0 victory over North Carolina, jumped from 11th place to seventh (310) while the

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Eskymos won from Kingsford, 27 to 0, last Saturday but they found the Elivvers no push-over and had to take to the air to score three of their four touchdowns. The first touchdown was scored in typical Eskymo fashion, a 68 yard march on running plays with Don Wickholm leading the drive. The next two touchdowns were scored on the identical screen pass that gave Escanaba its equalizing touchdown in the opening game of the season at Sault Ste. Marie, a short pass from Peterson to Ross, with the latter going all the way to the goal behind perfect interference. The final touchdown also was scored on a pass, Peterson to Morin.

The Escanaba passing attack is particularly effective because the Eskymos possess power on running plays and, of course, because they have an outstanding passer in Jug Peterson. The effectiveness of a team's passing attack, however, is always materially increased by a strong running attack. The defense is drawn to the scrimmage line to halt the line smashes, thereby opening gaps in the secondary defense where the passes generally are thrown.

Several years ago when Jug Girard was playing at Marinette, the Marines came to Escanaba with a team that possessed a passing attack that was the rave of the north. The Eskymos beat Marinette only because the Marines put all their hopes on their passing game. Escanaba found it rather easy to set up a defense for the Marinette passes when the threat of a strong running attack did not exist. Girard was a great runner as well as a sensational passer but it was not until the Marines had learned a lesson at Escanaba that they mixed their running plays judiciously with their passing game.

Last Saturday in the Menominee-Iron Mountain game, the Mountaineers' 12-0 victory was credited to a very effective passing attack but it is significant that the Mountaineers gained three times as much yardage on running plays as they did on passes, 157 yards to 51. Actually they completed less than a half dozen passes but they were pitched at just the right time to set up the two touchdowns of the game. It is obvious that a pass completed in opponents' half of the field is far more important than the same pass completed in the attacking team's own half of the field.

The Packers can trace their 27-14 defeat by the Cleveland Rams last Sunday to McKay's fumble on the 15 yard line in the fourth quarter. Green Bay was leading 14-6 going into the last period, but the Rams exploded for an early touchdown. The score then was 14-13 after the conversion. McKay's fumble followed and Cleveland recovered. The Rams showed this one across for the winning touchdown, adding a fourth and clincher later on an intercepted pass. It was probably the most costly fumble of the current professional football season.

Boilermakers hopped from 15th to ninth (184) on the seventh of a 40 to 0 rout of Iowa.

Alabama moved up a notch from seventh to sixth (511) place while Indiana (292) and Texas (117) retained their respective eighth and tenth positions.

Southern California, absorbing a 33 to 6 lacing by the San Diego Naval outfit, dropped out of the first ten, skidding from last week's sixth place rating to 14th place. Michigan, ninth in the previous listing, slid to 13th following its 27 to 7 defeat by Army.

Teams in the second ten were St. Mary's with 114 points; Georgia 113; Michigan 94; Southern California 45; Oklahoma Aggies 42; Duke 40; Columbia 27; Tulsa 24; Holy Cross 22, and Mississippi State 18.

Ohio State Guard Lineman Of Week

BY TED MEIER

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Warren Amling, 198-pound guard of Ohio State's undefeated, untied Buckeyes, today won this week's award as the football lineman of the week. Dick Scott, Navy center, won the honors last week in the first Associated Press poll of the season.

Amling drew praise not only from Midwest sports writers and his coach Carroll Widdoes, but from Harry Stuhldreher, mentor of the Wisconsin Badgers beaten by the Buckeyes, 12-0.

"That Amling," said Harry, who ought to know. "What a football player he is."

Amling played 59 minutes of the game and his side of the line was "absolutely impregnable," according to Paul Hornung of the Columbus Dispatch.

Leon Bramlett, Navy end, was singled out by many sports scribes, but the midshipman coach, Cmdr. Oscar Hagberg, asserted Guard Jim Carrington "was our outstanding lineman against Penn State. While Bramlett was brilliant, I rate Carrington's performance as tops. He turned in a whale of a game and his offensive and defensive blocking was superb."

Ernest "Bear" Knotts, Duke guard, was the fifth man in Wake Forest's backfield all afternoon while another guard, John Clotheaux, playing his first varsity game, helped Baylor upset Arkansas by intercepting three forward passes.

Centers Neil Zundel, of Princeton; Frank Sniadec, of Columbia; and Harold Watts, of Michigan, all received pats on the back for their sterling performances against Cornell, Yale and Army, respectively.

Floyd Wise of Illinois, the national corn husking champion when the contests were suspended for the duration, husked more than 45 bushels of corn in 80 minutes.

The first movie "Oscars" for acting, presented by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, went to Janet Gaynor and Emil Jennings in 1928.

Golf Championship Tourneys Announced For Season Of 1946

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Amateur golfers will determine their 1946 champion over one of the two Baltusrol courses, Springfield, N. J., in September and the open title will be decided over the Canterbury layout at Cleveland in June, the U. S. Golf Association announced today.

At the same time the golf leaders said the public links crown would be put up for decision at the Wellsheire Club in Denver, on July 22 to 27, and that if Great Britain sent over a Walker Cup team the matches would be played at Southampton, Long Island, on Aug. 30 and 31.

No dates nor site was set for the women's national tourney.

The executive committee of the USGA, which recently approved the return of tourney play after a four-year hiatus because of the war, met last Wednesday but would not reveal the locations of the meets until the host clubs had been notified by mail.

The amateur club swingers will meet at Baltusrol, site of the 1936 open, from Sept. 9 to 14 in their search for a successor to Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., who won the 1941 crown at Omaha, Neb., by defeating Pay Abbott, Hollywood extra, 4 and 3 in the final round. Both later joined the armed forces.

Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., taped up his throbbing back to score a 73-71-70-70-284 for the 1941 open crown at the Colonial Club, Fort Worth, Texas. He recently resigned as the Winged Foot Club pro to enter business but indicated he would play tournament golf. Denny Shute, now an Arkansas City, Kas., farmer, was second at 287.

The open is slated for June 13 to 15 over the same terrain where Lawson Little and Gene Sarazen tied for the 1940 title. Little won by three strokes in an 18-hole playoff.

When tournaments were dropped for the duration soon after Pearl Harbor, the sites for the 1942 contests already had been named with the open assigned to Minneapolis, the amateur to Del Monte, Calif., and the public links to Denver.

Air mail stamps were first placed on sale to the public in 1924.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 16 (AP)—Liquidation and stop loss selling produced price declines throughout the grain futures market last today.

The recession, against which traders in nearby wheat contracts offered mild opposition, was attributed by analysts to an overabundant position resulting from several weeks of steady price improvement.

Wheat suffered the biggest setback, the distant September contract closing 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower than yesterday. The 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower was common, however, with some deliveries of wheat, oats and barley also showing that much or more downturn. Corn was fractionally easier.

At the close wheat was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower than yesterday's finish. December $1.76 1/2 to $1.76 3/4. Corn was 1/4 to 5/8 lower, December $1.18. Oats were 1 1/8 to 1 3/4 lower, December 65 3/4 to 65 1/2. Rye was unchanged at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4. Barley was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, December $1.17 1/2.

December wheat was relatively firmer than the more deferred months during most of the session.

PIVOTAL STOCK ISSUES SLUMP

BY VICTOR EUBANK

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Selected stocks, utilities and specialties exhibited belated strength in today's stock market, although many pundits elsewhere backed into the territory. The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1 1/2 of a point at 72.5, after eight successive sessions without a setback. The utility composite, though edged to a top since March 10, 1937, of 82.3, added 2 points to 74.5, and was down 388 up and 210 unchanged.

RAILS BACK DOWN

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—The bond market sought slightly lower levels today as a number of rails backed away from fractions to round a point and others were increasingly choosy in other departments. There were scattered favorites emerging with modest gains.

General loans of the Missouri Pacific turned around in the final hour and ended up fractions to more than a point after spending most of the session behind minus. Florida East Coast 5s were strong all day, finishing ahead 2 points at 71. Peroria & 8 1/2 point at 71.5.

On the losing end were various obligations of the St. Paul, Rock Island, New York Central, Grand Central, U. S. Steel, and others. U. S. Steel's 6 1/2s were down 1/2 point at 100. U. S. Steel's 6 1/2s were down 1/2 point at 100.

Industrial and utility bonds, especially those in the higher brackets, showed no disposition to move. Investment circles busy. A new issue of $25,000,000 New York Connecting Railroad bonds was sold along with $10,000,000 of Dresser Industries preferred and several new bond issues were awarded at competitive sales.

Chicago, Oct. 16 (AP)—Electric 5 1/2s, 500,000 issue went to Morgan Stanley & Co. over the protests of a competing syndicate headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co., which took exception to the procedure of ignoring its higher bid for the bonds alone against the Morgan Stanley & Co. bid.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Gambling kept him poor!

Canada Bill Jones was known as the cleverest three-card monte operator on the river, back in the heyday of the Mississippi's floating palaces. But he stayed poor, because his passion for gambling was too great.

Marooned one night in a Louisiana village, Canada Bill searched everywhere before finding a faro game in the back room of a barber shop.

After a few plays, his partner warned him that the game was crooked. "I know it," Canada Bill replied, "but it's the only game in town."

Like Canada Bill Jones, you'll find the cards stacked against you, too, if you gamble your car against the weather. When the temperature drops suddenly, driving even a few miles without proper winter-conditioning, can cause costly damage.

Right now is none too soon to prepare your car for cold weather. Your Standard Oil Dealer is specially trained to do the job right.

COLLECTION OF CITY TAX 93.7%

Payments For 1945 Are Highest In History Of Escanaba

The collections of city taxes in Escanaba through the deadline date of Oct. 15 totaled $113,460.04 or 93.7 per cent of the total levy, the highest collection to that date in the history of the city, it was reported yesterday from the office of City Clerk Carl E. Anderson.

The high percentage of collections were made despite an increase in the levy, which totaled $120,999.43. The amount yet to be collected totals $7,539.39.

Collections this year exceeded last year by one-tenth of one per cent. Last year's collections totaled $103,450.64 or 93.6 per cent of a total levy of $110,558.51.

From this date to March 15 city taxes may be paid at city hall with a four per cent penalty added. After March 1 the rolls are turned over to the county treasurer and delinquent taxes are paid with the addition of a penalty of one-half of one per cent per month.

Property Is Deeded For Industrial Site

Menominee — Part of the "slough" property, lying south of the railroad tracks and between the Menominee sewage disposal plant and the interstate bridge, was deeded to the city of Menominee today by the Menominee county board of supervisors for use as an industrial site. The property is about 900 feet long and 600 feet across and comprises about 9 acres.

The action was taken at the request of Mayor Otto R. Eickmeyer who is working with the Menominee Chamber of Commerce in a program to induce new industries to locate in Menominee. The property was deeded to the county years ago by the Menominee & Marinette Light & Traction company, along with that portion of the slough which is known as Gateway Park. The power company retained possession of a 100-foot strip across the property for power lines.

Christopher Meyer, president of the United States Portable House company, of Washington, D. C., visited Menominee twice in late August and September and indicated that the site would be highly satisfactory for a new plant. The company plans to build early next spring. Negotiations between Meyer and Mayor Eickmeyer and the Chamber are now pending.

NO SLACKENING OF DRAFT PACE

Tentative Quotas For November Assigned To Local Board

The advance notice of draft calls for November received by the Delta county board indicates no slackening of military inductions.

The tentative quota for preinduction examinations in November is 40 men and the tentative quota for induction is 25 men. Actual quotas will be assigned later, but actual calls seldom differ materially from the advance notices.

A. VANDENBERG FOR PRESIDENCY

Michigan Man Regarded As Possibility For 1948 Race

Chicago (AP)—The Republican party's official publication, the Republican, said today a survey of "grass roots" GOP leaders showed Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan as the party's leading possibility for the 1948 presidential race.

Based on replies from 4,249 Republican county chairmen, state committee members and other local Republicans throughout the country, the magazine's poll showed Sen. Vandenberg's popularity had increased 40 per cent compared with a 1943 survey, mainly because of his stand on foreign policy.

Other GOP presidential possibilities who ranked high in the poll included John W. Bricker, former Ohio governor and 1944 presidential candidate; Navy Commander Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Also mentioned as 1948 contenders for the GOP nomination were Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Herbert Hoover, former president; Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Eric Johnston of Washington, Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, former GOP presidential candidate; Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska, Justice Harold Burton of Ohio, and Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois.

Of the 14 possible candidates offered by local party leaders across the country, Gov. Dewey was listed with the greatest loss of popularity since the previous poll, losing 13 per cent in the proportion agreeing with his views on domestic issues.

Despite this loss, the magazine said, Dewey continues to be among the top five, ranking third on domestic issues and fourth on foreign policy.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
